JAN 9, 1968

Dear Harold,

I have received your letter of Jan 2,

I think it is readily apparent, to any objective observer of our corresponence of the past two weeks, that you have not chosen to reply to most of the criticisms I have raised in my letter of Dec. 27, and repeated and amended, in numbered form in my last letter, that of Dec. 28.

Instead, you have chosen to reply with puerile, vindictive, immature, and quite paronoiac personal attacks.

Be that as it may, I will always remain receptive to any discussion of these issues, in the event that you ever choose to address yourself to them.

I might also add that it is most disappointing to discover that the author of WWI, WWII, photograp WW----all books that are presented as having been written by a person who is supposed to be fluent and competent in these areas-----could not bring himself to address the issues, when criticisms were raised.

Sincerely yours,

David
